In August 2017, Hurricane Harvey struck the Texas coast, bringing a historic amount of rainfall to the Houston region. The storm produced never-before-seen precipitation depths to Galveston, Harris, and Brazoria Counties. As was the case with most of the watersheds in the region, Clear Creek and Dickinson Bayous experienced widespread flooding, which resulted in significant flood damages.

The purpose of the Lower Clear Creek and Dickinson Bayou Watershed Study is to develop a comprehensive flood mitigation plan for the Lower Clear Creek and Dickinson Bayou watersheds, including identifying vulnerabilities in the watersheds and development and refinement of concepts to reduce flood risks.

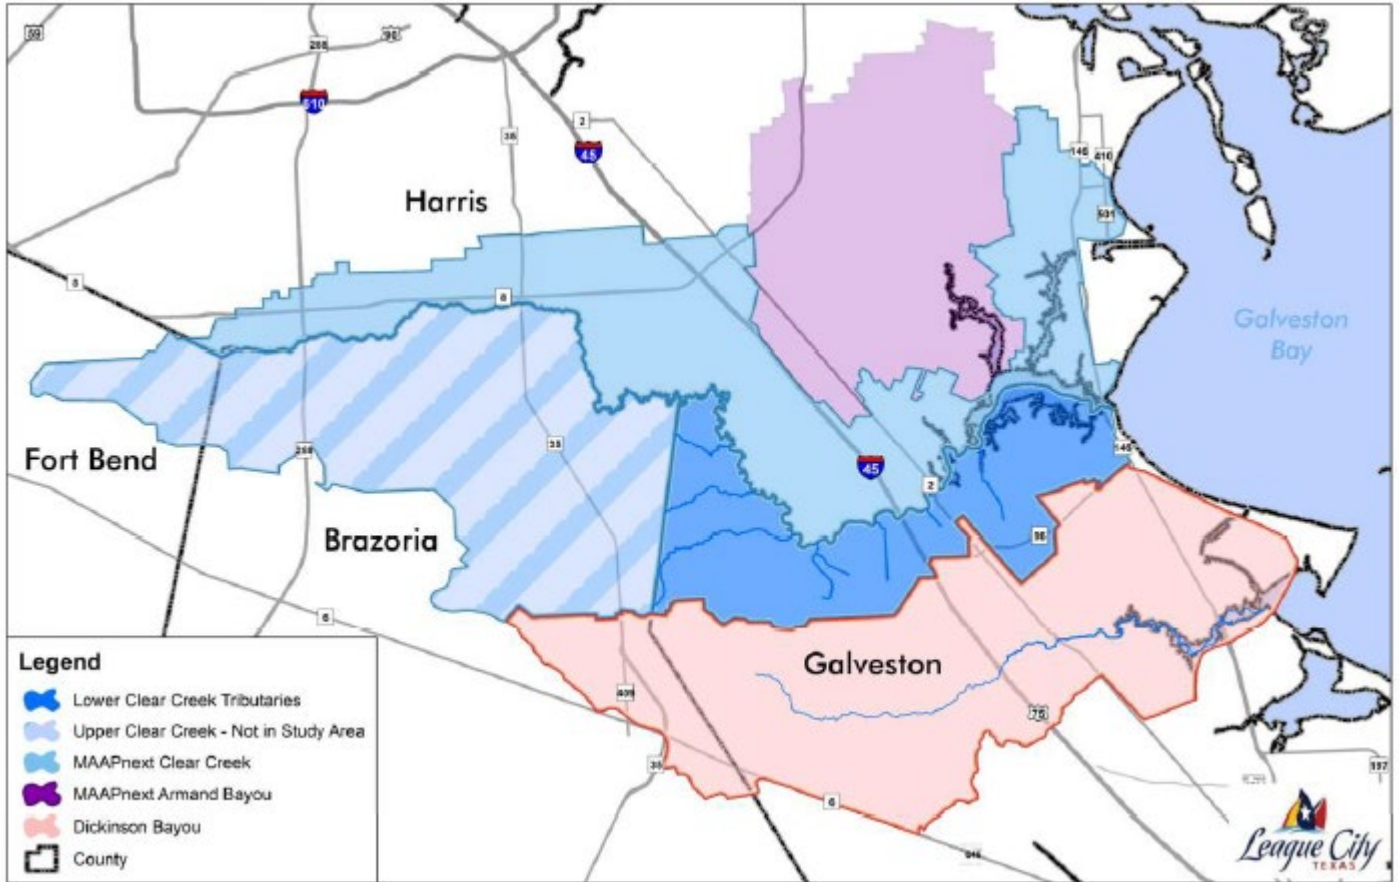

During each meeting, Study team representatives will present study updates, the history of the Clear Creek and Dickinson Bayou watersheds, and study progress. The public is invited to participate and view the impact the Study will have on them and their communities. The meeting format will be a virtual meeting presentation and after the representatives will be available to answer questions and take comments.

Comments will be accepted at the public meetings and throughout the duration of the comment period. All comments regarding Study findings should be submitted or postmarked by Thursday, November 19, 2020. Written comments may be mailed to the Lower Clear Creek and Dickinson Bayou Watershed Study Community Engagement Team at 2500 Summer Street, Suite 1130, Houston, Texas 77007 or emailed to LCCDB@Leaguecity.com.
